FARMERS HEAR PRO AND CON ON NEW SALES TAX

Two York County members of the state legislature vigorously defended the proposed state sales tax while Adams County's assemblyman opposed the need for such a tax at Friday evening's joint meeting of the Adams, Cumberland and York County Farmer's Associations held at the Biglerville auditorium.

George Goodling, from the third district of York County, declared: "Even as far back as 1943 I felt the need for a broad base tax. Hardly anyone here who doesn't smoke or drink pays any tax to the state. We get between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 in York County every biennium from the state government. I don't think a lot of the local school districts could bear the burden if this support were withdrawn. Education costs about 50 to 51 per cent of the whole budget of the state and if we want schools we must pay for them. I feel we need a tax that everyone pays."

"Selfish Attitude"

Assemblyman Luther L. Bear, of the second district of York County, told the group: "Too many people are taking a selfish attitude in connection with the sale tax. I don't think anyone has been approached more to vote against the sales tax than I have been. One of the parties opposed told me that if the sales tax passes they will lose Maryland trade. I said to them, 'Maryland is not keeping up our schools.'

"Business is paying about 62 per cent of the state taxes. I feel we can't increase the tax on business."

State Senator Donald P. McPherson, the first speaker, told the group that "If you wiped out every state

Abbottstown Man On Prisoner List

The name of Pfc. Lloyd F. Shaffer Jr., Abbottstown, turned up on a list of nearly 200 American soldiers still in Communist prison camps.

The name was contained in a small notebook of a Fulton, N. Y., soldier recently freed in the Korean prisoner of war exchange.

The 22-year-old Shaffer is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McWilliams, Abbottstown, and a son of Lloyd F. Shaffer and Mrs. Viola Shaffer, York.

Chef Newberry will arrive by automobile at 11 a.m., accompanied by delegations from Franklin, Shorty after noon today, Mr. Meligakes boarded a Trans-World Airlines Stratocruiser at Idlewild Airport, New York, bound for Greece, his first return trip since leaving his homeland 39 years ago.

However, this will be a festive, a gala occasion. He is going to participate in exercises attending the laying of a cornerstone for a new hospital in Potamos, Greece, a few miles from his old homestead, on the island of Kythera.

It will be a memorable occasion.

One hundred and forty-eight Adams countians reported Friday to the Elks home, York St. to "save a life" by donating a pint of blood to the Red Cross, but only 113 were accepted.

Colds were principal reason for the 33 rejections. The potential donors were thanked for being present and invited to come back next time.

All told 201 were invited to give blood, which Red Cross officials had thought would lead to at least 150 pints of blood being obtained.

The blood is badly needed now because, in addition to being used for the armed forces, it will also go for gamma globulin, the blood derivative that prevents paralysis in polio. With the polio season beginning, the need for blood is imperative, officials say.

35 Walk-Ins

Thirty-five persons, who did not have appointments, walked in to donate their pint of blood and thus helped compensate to some extent for the 90 countians who failed to appear as they had agreed.

Among the "walk-ins" were Mrs. Catherine Bly, Aspers; A. J. Pecher, Fairfield R. 2; C. L. Millhimes, New Oxford R. 2; Miss Ruth Cluck, Fairfield; Miss Elizabeth Hoffman, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Edna Cromwell, Fairfield R. 1; Miss Bessie Reaver, Fairfield R. 1; Mrs. Elizabeth Raudell, Waynesboro; Mrs. Sterling Cauldin, Biglerville R. 1; Miss Lena Crisp, Mrs. Viola Hardman, Mrs. Julia Entenmann, Mrs. Kathleen Bobo, Miss Ella Reichard, Mrs. Maggie Trent, all of Fairfield Shoe; Mrs. Ann Crouse, Gettysburg R. 1; Joan Kuhn, Gettysburg R. 1; William Forbes, Gettysburg College; Kenneth C. Brown, Gettysburg R. 1; Frank Mumper, Steinwehr Ave.; Mrs. Richard Heintzelman, Gettysburg R. 2; Charles W. Lease, Gettysburg R. 3; Fred Haehnlen Jr., Gettysburg; George Burgner, Stevens St., Charles A. Karas, N. Stratton St., and Francis Frew, Chambersburg St.

The Biglerville High School Band opened the program with a half hour concert under the direction of Harold Sanders. Majorettes gave a performance during the concert.

Jane Longanecker Queen

Miss Jane Longanecker, a senior, reigned as the May Queen, and her court entered the gymnasium and held their procession during the concert. Miss Longanecker was crowned by Prof. C. L. Yost, high school principal. A program by the Senior High School Chorus followed and a Maypole dance was held by the Junior and Senior High School ginn classes.

Approximately 100 patrons were present for the May Court ceremonies. A tour was conducted by the students who took parents through the school building after which tea was served by the Tri-Hi-Y Club members.

An open house was held in the afternoon and evening. Exhibits were on display in the English, Shop, Home Economics, Agriculture and Art Departments.

Awards, given only in the Shop Department, were presented to: Seventh Grade, first prize, Fred Hoffman; honorable mention, William Hornig; Eighth Grade, Larry Shillito; honorable mention, Richard Brough; Ninth Grade, Edwin McGaughlin; honorable mention, Robert Howe; Tenth Grade, Gary Wagaman; honorable mention, Nevin Frantz Jr.; Eleventh Grade, Joseph Barber; honorable mention, Robert Grubbs; Twelfth Grade, Gene Starry; honorable mention, Clyde Orner. Gene Starry also received a grand prize in toppling all entries.

Nick Meligakes Returns To His Native Greece To Help Lay Hospital Cornerstone

Thirty-nine years ago Nicholas Antonio Meligakes arrived in New York harbor aboard the Greek steamship Athens. It was Easter Sunday and the city was in a festive mood for the great feast of the Resurrection.

But for the young Greek from Livadi, Kythera, Greece, it was a sad day, for he was penniless. His spirits, however, were buoyed by the thought that he was in America, the land of riches and opportunities.

Shortly after noon today, Mr. Meligakes boarded a Trans-World Airlines Stratocruiser at Idlewild Airport, New York, bound for Greece, his first return trip since leaving his homeland 39 years ago.

However, this will be a festive, a gala occasion. He is going to participate in exercises attending the laying of a cornerstone for a new hospital in Potamos, Greece, a few miles from his old homestead, on the island of Kythera.

"ANSWER FOUND"

In the time we have for living . . . what is best to fill the years . . . how can we avoid great sorrow . . . in this world of doubts and fears . . . what's the best way to be happy . . . and to give the world a smile . . . I have wondered very often . . . what is really most worthwhile . . . it's not gold or great possessions . . . to make a joyful way . . . for I've learned that gold means worry . . . and for gold the heart must pay . . . but I think I've found the answer . . . we must learn to know our God . . . and to follow in His footsteps . . . throughout all the years we trod.

GOLDEN WEDDING

"After fifty years," said he, "We no longer disagree. I leave everything to her. What she chooses, I prefer. Yes or no; if not it be, No is quite okay with me."

"After fifty years," said she, "Almost trained, I'd say, is he. Once we argued years ago Over eyes and over no. Now that he agrees with me, We no longer disagree."

Golden Wedding! Few there are Arm in arm to walk so far. Share together smiles and tears, All the cares of fifty years, All life holds of good and ill And have eyes that twinkle still.

Plain it is that loves relies On that twinkle in the eyes And the humor good to bear Gracefully life's wear and tear. Yes and no. Could none agree, Golden Weddings wouldn't be.

Marciano Wins By Kao In 1st Round; Confusion Reigns As Walcott "Sits Out" Count

CHICAGO (AP)—The home of boxing's famed "long-count" today had a short-count controversy raging after heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano's first-round knockout of slow-reacting Jersey Joe Walcott at the Chicago Stadium last night.

While the dynamite-punching Marciano, now unbeaten in 44 pro fights, faced a possible New York September match with Roland La Starza or Ezzard Charles, Walcott's howling handlers readied formal protest of the manner in which Jersey Joe was tolled into apparent oblivion.

It appeared to many ring-side observers that a glassy-eyed Walcott "sat out" the 10-count of Referee Frank Sikora after he was knocked heels a-flying by a brutal Marciano right uppercut in 2:25 of a bewildering first round.

Fans Led Astray

But the fans in the far-reaches of the stadium and along the TV circuit felt strongly that Walcott was caught short by a count that was misheard by himself and his corner.

The controversial finish was reminiscent, with reverse spin, of Referee Dave Barry's famed long count at Soldier Field in 1927 when Jack Dempsey failed to go to his corner after knocking down Heavyweight Champion Gene Tunney.

Scores of fans, many of whom paid the $50 top, streamed to ringside to protest the knockout count and on TV, viewers—who saw only Walcott's back when the big punch came—wondered why Jersey Joe didn't make it to his feet in time.

But Jersey Joe, the 39-year-old Camden, N. J., father of six children, also told reporters that it was a "left-hook and a push-punch, or something" that floored him. He also said that he thought he had climbed to one knee at the count of three.

But he didn't climb to one knee. After he righted himself from a fall on his back with his heels flying high in the air, he sat up and draped his right hand on the ropes with no attempt to get up until the toll actually had reached 13. He had a vacant stare on his face and, as he claims, he was looking at his corner for advice to climb to his feet, it didn't appear that way to many ring-siders.

Will Lodge Protest

Walcott's manager, irate Felice Bocchicchio, said his lawyer, Angelo Malanda, would prepare a protest for the Illinois State Athletic Commission. However, the commission members today were in Milwaukee attending a National Boxing Association meeting and said such a protest could not be expected until Monday.

Thus, Walcott joined seven other former heavyweights who failed to win back the title. He had the balm, however, of a $250,000 payoff—approximately $1.274 per second for his 145 seconds of surprisingly inept performing.

Jersey Joe, who had floored Marciano for the first time in his career in the first round of their hectic Philadelphia meeting last Sept. 23, let Rocky carry the fight from the outset last night.

Marciano waded right in, forced the attack, and Walcott merely tried to tie him up inside. Never once did Walcott cut loose with the steaming punches he threw at the opening bell.

Jersey Joe didn't seem to be in distress and the end came with amazing quickness as Marciano set him up with a left-hook and then whistled the right uppercut which nailed the old boy flush on the chin.

All was confusion. Even the ring announcer gave the wrong time on the knockout after the ring had been cleared of Walcott's handlers, cops, ushers and an unidentified fan who got quickly rushed out of the ring. The first announcement was that the kauy came in 1:25.

Champ's Take Short

Marciano's first title defense left him considerably short of the challenger on pay with approximately $166,000 for his 30 per cent of the $253,462 net gate and a $300,000 TV fee. Walcott's flat $250,000 was guaranteed by the sponsoring International Boxing Club. Marciano weighed 184½ and Walcott 197¾.

A paid crowd of 13,266 contributed a gross gate of $331,794, far short of the indoor record gate of $422,918 which the IBC confidently had predicted would be shattered in last night's rematch.

LA SALLE LEADS MID-ATLANTICS AS MARKS FALLS

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Defending champion La Salle college holds a commanding lead in the two-day 41st annual Middle Atlantic track and field meet today after qualifying 15 men in yesterday's preliminary opening session.

Joe Walker, La Salle junior, set a new meet record for the 220-yard dash with a 21.4 performance. The old time, 21.6, was set back in 1915 by Howard Bostock of Gettysburg, and tied later by Leconey of Lafayette, Wayne Bucher of Gettysburg and Wallen of Rutgers. Walker, defending champion in both the 100 and 220, headed Phil McCloskey, of St. Joseph's and Bill Jones of Delaware by better than ten yards.

St. Joseph's took second place among the semi-final qualifiers with eight men and Lafayette, Haverford and Delaware tied for third with six each. Albright has four entries in today's finals.

The host team, Franklin and Marshall, had a single qualifier in Hal Goldstein who finished second in his heat of the 120 yard high hurdles.

Bill Lauder of Lafayette, 1952 titleholder in the 220 yard low hurdles, was eliminated in the semi-finals after finishing second in his preliminary heat.

GHS NINE HAS SLIM CHANCE FOR SP TITLE

Four games, all playoffs of post-season, remain to be played in the South Penn Baseball League and Coach Howard Shoemaker's Gettysburg High School Warriors retain only a slim chance of ousting Hanover as champions.

To cop the title the Warriors would have to win at Shippensburg, Monday; Hanover would have to lose to the Greyhounds at Hanover Tuesday while Gettysburg would also need a win over the Nighthawks here next Wednesday in the final game.

Hanover can clinch its third straight league title with a triumph in one of its two remaining tilts.

That situation arise as the result of the cancellation of the Gettysburg-Chambersburg double-header scheduled for Friday. The Warrior-Trojan wash out Friday was the third time this year the teams were forced to call off scheduled games.

Member S.A.E.

Motoring would be a lot safer if there were fewer 1913 drivers using 1953 cars over 1933 roads.

Warnings On Compression

Now that higher compression is being given a new lease on life we may as well face some facts. One of the pitfalls is the owner's failure to use higher octane gas. Higher compression always places a higher load on the engine's bearings, and if the motor is allowed to ping the situations will be even worse. Head gaskets leakage is important to watch where compression is higher. This isn't confined to the extra pressure of the combusting gases but to vibration which may tend to loosen the head nuts. Here again selection of gas is most important.

Unless the exhaust system is overheated stock high compression is likely to cause exhaust ringing. Welding extra metal to the manifold may check this. It is also important to hold down carbon deposits. This calls for better selection of oil, more care in adjustment of the idling mixture, high efficiency of the automatic choke control and use of detergents to keep the rings free.

Depend On Each Other

No part of the car can be adjusted or changed without in some way affecting other parts, favorably or otherwise. Thus after a ring job it often happens that the battery will go dead because it is hard to crank the engine when hot and when the rings have expanded more than usual. Motor improvements sometimes increase car speed to a point where brakes show up unfavorably. One owner complained of engine stalling after a brake relining. This was explained by the fact that he was disturbing the carburetor float with too many abrupt stops.

That Leaky Carburetor

When the carburetor develops leakage there are three general reasons.

First, there may be a loose connection where the gas line enters the bowl. Second, the float may stick. Third, there may be dirt in the needle valve so that the flow of fuel from the pump is not shut off. Do not, however, confuse real leakage with the back-draining of gasoline which condenses in the intake manifold when a warm motor cools off.

Tightening loose connections is simple enough, but often the float can be troublesome because of too little clearance. Perhaps there is a leak in the float itself resulting in it failing to rise to the top of the supply. The seat and valve can be replaced, if necessary.

"Sludge is a word thrown around freely yet few motorists know it is an emulsion of acids, dirt, gasoline and super-heated steam. It is one end product of a lot of activity in the engine's crankcase. Normally it settles at the bottom of the case or around the valve compartment. Here it does no harm. What causes sludge into the picture is that it often gets stirred up and sent into the oil stream to be circulated through the motor. Careless use of oil additives should be avoided. Take down the engine pan and clean out the sludge manually first."

Tip On Night Driving

Safe highways must have curves and grades which allow headlights to show a safe distance ahead. That ought to be a tip to us that we all tend to out-drive the headlights on ordinary roads. We assume that because the lighted road ahead offers no obstacles the unlighted portion beyond is just as safe. And therein lies a booby trap.

The best way to avoid this common error in night driving is to cut down on speed. This is the equal of boosting braking power.

It Mixes With Music

Although love has played the major role in the inspiration behind America popular songs and musical comedies the automobile has not been without its influence as a theme. This is again illustrated in another Century House tome entitled "Blue Book of Broadway Musicals" by Jack Burton. Here we learn that there were two songs covering the same topics, one simply titled "Get Our and Get Under," the other leaving no room for doubt with the elongated "He'd Have to Get Under, Get Out and Get Under to Fix Up His Automobile." A song titled "Over the Hill" brings back mixed memories, as does the "Vanderbilt Cup Gallop" from a score by Robin Hood Bowers. He also composed "My Gasoline Automobile."

There are some references to the motor car in George M. Cohen scores. John W. Bratton penned one called "Auto-Mo-Biling."

Housecleaning The Brakes

It is not generally known that brakes should occasionally be cleaned of the dust which collects in them. This dust is partly dirt, but is mostly filings from the drum as well as the material of the brake lining. Usually the excess of dust become packed against the lining in such a way that it disturbs braking action.

Sometimes enough will pack in this way to cause what amounts to a high spot on the lining. In cleaning out the dust be sure to clean the cams and connections which become dusty and rusty. It is a good idea to wipe the brake shoe return springs in an oily rag when testing them for tension.

Speeding Tire Wear

We have experienced so much trouble with front-end misalignment and underinflation as causes of early tire wear there has been a tendency to overlook other factors. How many motorists realize, for example, that tires last twice as long, other things being equal, if the road surface is around 60 degrees as compared with a surface temperature of 90 degrees.

Another important factor is speed. At 35 mph tires should last twice as long as when operated at a sustained speed of 60. The road surface itself is another point to be considered. Over rough roads tires wear five times as fast as they do over smooth roads. Thus when we get a combination of adverse conditions it is little wonder that the treads disappear and the carcass weakens.

Hardly Worth While

Thinking of "souping up" the engine by altering the camshaft? Well, it's a lot of trouble and sometimes it isn't worth while. By cutting down the heel of each cam one-eighth inch valves have steeper ramps which means quicker opening and closing, plus a longer period in which valves remain open. This change to what is known as a  $\frac{3}{4}$  racing cam will boost power about 15 per cent, other things being equal. It's really nothing to get excited about when the cars to the right and left of you in traffic probably have motors rated from 150 to 210 hp.

Having Their Troubles

Q. As warmer weather approaches I am having the customary mild overheating of the engine. I notice it especially when the engine is idling. Have checked the system, and one opinion is that the radiator is too small for the engine. Have you any suggestions? G. L.

A. Has anyone suggested that the fan may not be close enough to the radiator core? At idle the fan is important, and if it is back too far it will not be as effective. A spacer can be used between the fan and the pulley to bring it closer to the core.

Q. I have recently tested the rear shock absorbers by bouncing the car up and down. When I stop bouncing it the car doesn't come to rest at a level position promptly. What next? G. N. B.

A. Don't jump at conclusions. The shocks on your car can't be accurately tested in this manner. Check with your service man.

Q. Is it all right to use soap on the fan belt to check squealing?

F. K. L.

A. Soaping the belt is merely a temporary "remedy" and it shortens belt life. To cut the glaze which causes the noise use one of the new dressings or sprays.

Q. They tell me that the particular trouble with the steering of my car is a low speed shimmy. However, nothing seems to be wrong so far as wheel balance or front-end alignment is concerned. Steering gear has also been checked. T. McN. Jr.

A. Just as I guess have them check the drag link which may be weak. Steering arms should also be looked over.

Q. I'm worried because the brake pedal is rather low on my car, although stopping is normal otherwise. Does this indicate leakage? I do not see any evidences of fluid on the tires or on the garage floor below the master cylinder. D. J.

A. The first thing to check over would be the master cylinder where the fluid level may be too low.

Q. Now that warm weather is here I find it very hard to start the engine after it has been warmed up and has been shut off for a short while. Several times I have had to be pushed. Once the motor starts everything is normal again. W. W. R.

A. There is an anti-percolator valve in the carburetor of your car. This probably is clogged.

Q. What would cause the oil pressure gauge to be so erratic? I know that there is plenty of oil in the engine and that the screen to the oil pump inlet isn't clogged. J. J. L.

A. I think you will find that this indicates a defective unit on the engine. The gauge on your car is electric.

Q. What causes generator regulator points to burn? F. G. McC.

A. Usually dust on its points.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fert St., West Hartford, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

PRESS CONFAB OPENS FRIDAY

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (P) — Newspaper men and women Friday opened the annual two-day Pennsylvania Press Conference with a discussion of the barriers that prevent newspapers from getting legitimate public information.

"One of the fundamental responsibilities of newspapers is to protect the people's right to know," said Theodore A. Serrill, general manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and conference director.

"Faced with ever increasing attempts to make access to news more difficult," Serrill said, "we have developed a program that will provide an opportunity for the working press to give serious study to the problem."

The conference is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors, Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association, Pennsylvania Women's Press Association and the Journalism Department of the Pennsylvania State College.

Conference chairman is Melville F. Ferguson, editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin and PSNE president.

FREDERICK CO. SCHOOL SURVEY IS CONDUCTED

A three-day survey of virtually every school building in Frederick, Md., and Frederick County has been made by a group comprising members of the Board of County Commissioners, Board of Education and interested organizations and a date will soon be set for a general discussion looking to plans for whatever improvements seem necessary.

The survey was a major subject at Tuesday's meeting of the Frederick County Board of Education when the decision was made to hold a general discussion after a summary citing each building viewed by the group is sent to the members for study by Superintendent of Schools Eugene W. Pruitt.

The group which visited the school properties was composed of the members of the Board of County Commissioners, Board of Education; Master Bruce Crum, Ivan Brown, of Blue Ridge Summit, and B. Clarke Gibson, of Adamstown representing Pomona Grange; Harry Zentz, Plans and specifications are well under way, he said, and it is expected bids will be advertised to be opened at the next regular meeting of the board June 3. The board has every intention of completing the work before the opening of school in the fall, it was stated.

Provide For Negroes

It is likewise hoped to complete contacts at Thurmont and at Middletown elementary school, contracts for which were announced yesterday, before the opening of the new term.

Mr. Posey also reported progress on plans for alteration at Burkittsville school, including new toilet facilities, a sewage disposal field and a kitchen to provide for lunches. Bids are expected to be asked some time in June, to be opened in July. Board member Joseph Rhoderick and Mr. Pruitt were authorized to proceed with award of a contract for about 200 feet of paving on the east side of the Lincoln school there, leading to the service entrance after bids were opened.

To Ask Bids

James Posey, Baltimore, the board's mechanical engineer, reported progress on proposed changes at Brunswick High School to provide kitchen and cafeteria facilities in rooms in the south part of the basement and a home economics room on the second floor, together with rewiring and relighting the entire building.

A letter was received from the Jefferson PTA asking that the interior of the building be entirely redecorated during the summer. Plans had already been made for a part of this work and the board decided to proceed with the necessary painting.

James H. Cramer was named a member of the board's insurance advisory committee, succeeding David H. Griffin, who has retired from the insurance business.

The resignations of the following teachers were accepted: Thelma Howse, Liberty Junior High School; Winnicita Whisler, Middletown elementary; Janeva Henline, North Market St.; Alice Gentry, Elm St.; William Peacher, Middletown High. Mrs. Lillian T. Joy was named to the faculty of Liberty Junior High.

ARMISTICE TALK RECESSED UNTIL NEXT TUESDAY;

of issuing a formal statement defending the "fundamental humanitarian principle" of letting prisoners of the Korean war choose whether they will go home.

There can be no compromise, the State Department said in the statement apparently aimed at critics at home and abroad.

Putting On Pressure

The department said every possibility for an honorable truce will be explored, but there can be no agreement which would condemn some prisoners to "indefinite captivity."

India, Britain and Canada all brought pressure on the U. S. to reach an agreement on the basis of the Communists' May 7 proposal.

Harrison refused to comment on the criticism.

Offer Freedom

Communist negotiators argued vehemently for their plan to turn over to a five-nation commission for four months the 48,000 North

Indians who refuse repatriation after Red explanations would be freed.

Korean and Chinese prisoners who refuse to go home. During this period the Reds would explain matters to them. The future of those who still refuse repatriation would be decided at a post-armistice political conference.

The U. N. Command proposes freeing immediately after an armistice 34,000 North Koreans who do not want to return to their former homes. The repatriation commission would take custody of 14,500 Chinese for two months, and those who refuse repatriation after Red explanations would be freed.

M'CARTHY AIMS NEW BLAST AT ALLIES; WOULD CUT PAYMENTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) fired another blast at America's allies today with a proposal aimed at making them take over more of the costs of the Korean war.

The Wisconsin senator said he has instructed his staff to draft an amendment to the pending State Department appropriations bill, designed to pare the proposed 30-million dollar American share of operating United Nations agencies.

As explained by McCarthy, who is engaged in a transatlantic word battle with British leaders, the amendment would:

"We're Paying 95 Per Cent."

1. Reduce the U. S. contribution for U. N. operating expenses to the percentage level of other nations' participation in Korean war financing, and

2. Thereby induce other nations who are not, in McCarthy's view, contributing enough to the Korean war effort, to step up their support of regular U. N. activities as a sort of offset.

"We have been contributing 95 per cent of the money and men for the Korean war," McCarthy said in an interview. "If we cut our U. N. contributions to the 5 per cent the other nations have been putting up in Korea, maybe we can get a little more financial cooperation out of them."

Predict Red Agreement

The U. S. now is putting up 35 per cent of the cost of operating eight U. N. organizations, and also is contributing to 21 related international groups. The House Appropriations Committee said in its report on the $143,000,000 State Department bill that commitments had been made to cut future U. S. contributions to 33 1/3 per cent.

McCarthy's new move came as Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), a foreign relations committee member, predicted the Communists eventually will accept the U. N. proposals for handling Korean prisoners of war and also "probably the unification of Korea."

But, Smith said:

"The final price will be admission of Red China to the United Nations and a seat on the Security Council."

"That is the real danger. Admission of Communist China to the U. N. would mean the eventual disappearance of all Asia behind the Iron Curtain."

A statement by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, endorsing the most recent Communist proposal for the repatriation of prisoners of war, drew caustic dissent from some senators, among them Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) and Sen. Potter (R-Mich.).

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the various statements of the trans-Atlantic debate indicate to him there ought to be an immediate meeting of the free world's foreign ministers. Such a meeting, he said, should aim at "a new harmony which will place our minor disagreements in their proper perspective."

IKE CRUISING ON CHESAPEAKE

NORFOLK, Va., (AP) — President Eisenhower cruised in Chesapeake bay today before heading for Norfolk to confer with aides on the radio talk he will make Tuesday night on the related subjects of national security, federal spending and taxes.

The President planned also to confer with an old golf partner, Adm. Lynde D. McCormick, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

The Presidential aides who will help draft the nationwide address were to board the Presidential yacht Williamsburg on her arrival at the Norfolk Naval Base. They are Gabriel Hauge, assistant in charge of economic affairs, and Dr. D. Jackson, cold war strategy planner.

The Williamsburg, with Eisenhower and his aides aboard, will sail from Norfolk tonight for Annapolis, Md., where the President will attend Sunday church services and visit the U. S. Naval Academy.

Old Ground Rent Requirement Ended

A ground rent, apparently in existence since the beginning of the town, is extinguished by a paper filed with the county register and recorder's office for the property of Dr. Leonard L. and Kruettja W. Potter, Littlestown.

The property is on Frederick St. Extinction of the 50-cent per year ground rent was effected by the payment of $1 to the holders of the ground rent, Mabel M. Ziegler, Glenn W. and Edna Ziegler, James Kenneth Ziegler, and Carl W. and Mildred Ziegler, all of Littlestown.

The President planned also to confer with an old golf partner, Adm. Lynde D. McCormick, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

The accepted method of building an Eskimo Igloo is to finish the job from inside before the door is made, the workman having to chop his way out.

for coming the greatest distance to Sunday School.

Another Mother's Day church program at Franklinton was that of the United Brethren church, with the Rev. Mr. Stoner, Grantham, teaching the lesson. Mrs. Melva King had charge of the program. Mrs. Thelma Myers gave a reading, and the children of the Sunday School presented flowers to the mothers present, with potted plants given to Mrs. Sadie Wiley, oldest mother, and Mrs. Joan Creavy, youngest mother present.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Farren entertained the Sunday School class of this church, taught by Mrs. Glenn Wonders, at their home Tuesday evening.
